"As National Socialists, we may rightly say that all history can be divided into two parts: that before Adolf Hitler, and that after Adolf Hitler."

—Matt Koehl, 21 April 1979 YL-91

'Hitler Festivals' Held

National Socialists in America and throughout the world gathered to celebrate the 90th anniversary of the birth of Adolf Hitler on 20 April. Many of the formal celebrations took place on 21 April, which, being a Saturday, was a convenient time for most comrades to meet.

Some 65 National Socialists from Chicago and Milwaukee gathered for a special dinner in Milwaukee on 21 April. In addition to the dinner, the National Socialists heard speakers from the four units discuss the significance of Adolf Hitler's birth to the Aryan race, and related topics. Afterwards, several NS movies were shown.

In Arlington, three-dozen comrades joined with the Commander in commemorating this joyous occasion, also on 21 April. The entire day was filled with various activities, some public and some internal in nature.

The first event was a uniformed WHITE POWER distribution in Washington, D.C. Fifteen uniformed ST men, accompanied by numerous plain-clothes comrades, marched in formation down the capitol mall to the museum of natural history. The National Socialists distributed over 200 papers in less than one hour to interested White people, and then returned to Arlington. There were no incidents.

While the troopers were spreading the good word to the White masses in the nation's capital, women comrades were hard at work preparing a picnic lunch. The site of the picnic was Upton Hill Park—a recreation area which has been constructed on "Hate-monger Hill," the location of the famous Party headquarters and stormtroop barracks in the 1960's.

A short distance from the hill is the small shopping center where Commander Rockwell was assassinated in 1967. After the picnic, the Party comrades marched in single file from the hill to the assassination site. As they approached the spot where Commander Rockwell fell, each comrade in succession—man and woman, youngster and adult, ST man and Official Supporter—paused, laid a red carnation on the ground (symbolizing Lincoln Rockwell's blood sacrifice for the Movement and his Race) and gave the National Socialist salute. Although this simple but moving ceremony took place without uniforms, flags and so forth, it attracted considerable attention from area residents, who left their houses and places of business to watch the solemn procession and ceremony in respectful silence.

The next activity on the agenda was a visit to George Mason University, where a collection of National Socialist war art was on display—along with four paintings by Adolf Hitler! Two of the paintings by the Leader were done while he was at the front during the First World War. The other two were completed earlier, one in Vienna and one in Munich. Like the war paintings exhibited along with them, the Hitler paintings were technically accomplished and inspirational—a refreshing change from the abstract smearings and pornography that pass as "art" today!

That evening Commander Koehl addressed a private gathering of National Socialists and selected guests in a meeting room in Arlington. The Commander gave a rousing speech on the meaning of Adolf Hitler to Aryan man in general and to the National Socialist movement in particular.The Commander stressed that National Socialism is more than just another transitory political movement. Rather, it is a racial faith. Just as Jesus Christ offered the world a doctrine of individual salvation, so did the teachings of Adolf Hitler proclaim a doctrine of racial salvation for an embattled Aryan mankind. Likewise, just as the personality of Jesus Christ is inseparable from Christianity, and just as the personality of Karl Marx is inseparable from Marxism, so the personality of Adolf Hitler is inseparable from National Socialism. Those who claim to work for a renaissance of our Race without being willing to admit the vital role played by Adolf Hitler in this rebirth are making a grievous mistake, the Commander said.

Following his address, the Commander led the gathering in a ceremony honoring those comrades who have given their lives while serving the World Union of National Socialists and the Movement of Adolf Hitler.

The final event of the day was a showing of the NS film classic, Triumph of the Will, a documentary of the 1934 Party rally of the NSDAP in Nuremberg.

Those comrades who attended this full day of National Socialist activism in Arlington left refreshed and spiritually renewed, more ready than ever to carry the race-saving message of National Socialism to their White brothers and sisters.

Minneapolis Comrades Aid Flood Victims

With their usual amount of determination, Minneapolis comrades pitched right in to help out flood victims in late April. The Richard Biederman Unit reports:

"In response to calls for help from the Salvation Army for aid to the many White victims of severe flooding in the Red River region of the Dakotas, Northwestern Minnesota and Canada, unit members and local supporters and sympathizers pitched in to help out. In a few short days, the unit collected over $200.00 worth of canned goods and cleaning gear. In addition, a double bed mattress and box-spring were donated to the effort.

"In the future, as times get worse, White people will have to depend more on each other, rather than the government, in times of natural disaster. Proof of this was pointed out by one homeless White man, during a TV news interview. Remarking on the government's plan to 'aid' the flood victims by providing them with 'low-interest' loans, the man said: 'They act like they're doing us a favor by giving us these loans—yet they can give away 5 billion dollars to Israel!' Tragically, it sometimes takes a disaster to wake White people up!"

The efforts of our Minneapolis comrades really show what constructive things can be done to aid our racial kinsmen.

Chicago Comrades Undertake Spring Clean-up

On Saturday, 14 April, members of the NSWO, assisted by other comrades, launched another successful, and constructive, operation in Chicago to help out local White people. This time our resourceful comrades cleaned up an area park and playground, as well as sidewalks and streets, of debris. Not only was something done to actually help our racial kinsmen, but our comrades had fun doing it. Reports the Chicago NSWO: "The operation was so successful and such fun for the clean-up crew that plans were made to make it an annual event."

Red Creeps Blasted by National Socialists

On 5 April, Party comrades of the Richard Biederman Unit attended a school board budget hearing at Sanford Junior High School in Minneapolis. Also present were a motley group of Communists from the Progressive Labor Party, who wasted everyone's time by spewing forth their insane accusations of "genocide against the workers."

The Reds started in after the local people had their say. Obviously disgusted at the sight of PLP members in their presence, many Whites left. Knowing the time to be right, Unit Leader Steve Martinson reports, "The uniformed National Socialists took off their jackets, and the mufti crew put on armbands and White Power buttons. The communists, a short distance away, started to mutter and whisper among themselves, visibly nervous. As the Reds droned on in their Marxist monotones, we started to heckle and boo at them. This, in turn, made the Communist speakers even more nervous, and caused them to stutter, which resulted in making them look all the more idiotic."

A Black PLPer shouted "Death to the Nazis!" But when confronted, he backed down. The Reds decided to leave moments afterwards—obviously aware that they were up against National Socialists and not confused and unorganized Whites.

The Marxist slime showed how truly courageous they were by their nervousness and unsteadiness in the mere presence of uniformed National Socialists. Further bravery was exhibited by their sick chanting.

You can usually depend upon a Red, or any of the enemies of our Race for that matter, for brave talk . . . and an action directly the opposite.

Our Minneapolis comrades left the meeting with a proud feeling, knowing that their mission of representing the White people had been a success. And if more comrades emulated the Minneapolis comrades, they would certainly meet with the same results.

New England Taken by Storm of Activism

Unit Organizer Douglass Knight of the Merrimack Valley (N.H.) Probationary Unit reports great success in recent weeks for the Party in New England. On 1 April, Comrade Knight conducted a 2½ hour radio interview in Lowell, Mass. As could be expected, a few hysterical Jews and demented Reds called in to voice their opinions. Comrade Knight used most of his time on the air to smash the "Nazi" stereotype and the World War II myths, such as the most bizarre of them all—the "holocaust."

During the week prior to the Hitler Festival, Comrade Knight visited a number of communities to secure permission from local authorities for the distribution of copies of WHITE POWER (and Party business cards). Considerable time was also spent in securing media contacts and arranging for interviews. One brief radio interview was taped and played immediately after a baseball game on 19 April, in Haverhill, Mass.

Another interview was aired over WVNH-radio in Salem, N.H. on 30 April, and lasted for about 30 minutes. Comrade Knight reports that he again defended the Party against the "holocaust" charges and attacked the "Nazi" sterotype. A brief rebuttal was made by a history professor from the University of New Hampshire. The "scholar" did not attack National Socialism on a factual basis, but instead slandered those attracted to the Movement with a pseudo-intellectual Freudian analysis of their personalities.

Comrade Knight was particularly impressed by the interviewer, Candy Frank, who was not only very objective, but also quite friendly. If only more newspeople would follow the professional example set by Candy Frank (who is not connected in any way with the Party) the media would definately be more accurate—but instead it is being strangled by the Jewish octopus.

On 20 April, Comrade Douglass Knight conducted a successful WHITE POWER distribution in Derry, N.H. And on 21 April, Comrade Knight was joined by Comrade Richard Anthony for an even more successful distribution of copies of WHITE POWER and Party business cards, this time in Haverhill, Mass.

Although media coverage of Party activities in New England has been virtually non-existant, Comrade Knight states that there has been much, and very favorable, response from the public. Also, he assures us that his reception on the streets of New England has been friendily received. Comrade Knight reports, "And now that I have things moving forward, I consider it paramount to keep them moving forward—and I intend to do so."

ACTIVITIES IN BRIEF

● The Baltimore Unit yet again led the nation in its distribution of 1,400 copies of WHITE POWER. The Richard Biederman Unit in Minneapolis, Milwaukee Unit I and Chicago Unit I report that they distributed 1,100, 750, and 500 copies, respectively. Party activists in the states of Washington and Indiana report that they distributed almost 100 copies each. In addition, our Washington comrades distributed over 200 Party business cards and numerous Begin leaflets.

● On 28 April, the film Triumph of the Will was shown at a private meeting of White patriots in Reading, Penn. Comrades Rick Cooper and Fred Verduin were very well received, and took in some $70.00 in sales and contributions. The people were so enthusiastic that Comrades Cooper and Verduin were asked to return for a second showing to a pro-NS group or even the general public.

● Not every reporter twists the news around into a web of lies, as evidenced by the article written by Richard Wilkins of the Garnett News Service, which appeared in various newspapers coast-to-coast. Richard Wilkins' article goes to show that there are reporters in this country, and not just creeps who cater exclusively to the Jew media moguls. The article is reproduced on the next page.

● Also on the next page is the letter that Comrade Margaret Harden recently wrote to the editor of the Sentinal, of Winston-Salem, N.C.

● Members of the Los Angeles and Orange County Units protested a period of mourning for the "victims" of the so-called "holocaust." On 28 April, ST and support personnel conducted a picket in West Los Angeles. Although barraged by eggs the ST stood their ground until their picket was completed.

● Comrade Martin Kerr, editor of WHITE POWER, taped a 15 minute interview on "Inquiry," a television show produced by students of Montgomery College in Rockville. The interview, which was aired at a later date, dealt with the basic points of Party ideology.

● On 20 April, Comrade Art Jones of MHQ staff was interviewed on WTAQ-radio. Comrade Jones' talk on Party ideology was so successful that there was a great increase in the number of visits and inquiries. And on 24 April, a White Power message, dealing with heavily armed Israelis at O'Hare Airport in Chicago, and written by Comrade Eric Johanson, was aired over WGN-radio.

● On 10 April, Comrades Martin Kerr, Rick Cooper and Dominic Lewitzke went to Jefferson High School, in Fairfax, Va., where they talked to three classes on the Party. Comrade Kerr's presentation was taped for those interested but who could not attend.

● Also, on 19 April, Comrades Fred Verduin and Rick Cooper went to George Mason University in Fairfax, Va., where Comrade Verduin gave a presentation of Party doctrine to a sociology class.

Nazis bank on 'catastrophe'

By RICHARD WILKINS
Gannett News Service

Among the millions watching the final installment of the television serial, "Roots: The Next Generation," were scattered small groups of viewers wearing armbands emblazoned with swastikas.

In the last segment, Alex Haley (portrayed by James Earl Jones) interviewed then-American Nazi Party leader George Lincoln Rockwell (played by Marlon Brando). That interview, conducted more than 10 years ago for Playboy magazine, has become a valuable document to Nazi-watchers, almost a classic.

There are, no doubt, more watchers than Nazis. They include members of the Jewish Defense League, some local police departments, the FBI, sociologists, writers and some ordinary citizens. They express concern over what they see as an "unhealthy" interest in neo-Nazi groups, such as the one formed by Rockwell 20 years ago.

But, of all the Nazi-watchers, few watch so avidly as the Nazis themselves.

That's a theory I developed after watching them for nearly two years while living in southern California.

As a reporter, I covered one Nazi meeting during which the group had its own photographer shooting pictures of members looking at photographs of themselves.

After the conclusion of "Roots 2," I telephoned the American Nazi Party, now called the National Socialist White Peoples Party, in Arlington, Va.

It took several days, but finally I was able to speak with Mattias Koehl Jr., who assumed control of the group after Rockwell was assassinated in 1967.

"It was a work of pure fiction," he said, referring to the television dramatization of the interview with Rockwell. "Any resemblance with what took place was purely coincidental."

He said he wasn't surprised at the "stereotype" portrayal of Rockwell, considering "all the Jews in the credits (of the movie)."

"Mr. Haley was never held at gunpoint. Neither was he fumigated as was suggested by the film. That's a bunch of garbage."

Koehl went on to list what he said were various other inaccuracies, such as a portrayal of Rockwell as "stodgy and bumbling," Brando's attire, and where he was sitting in the room during the interview.

He said he himself was in the room during part of the session. "If they were interested in accuracy, I think they would have called about hiring as a technical adviser someone from the party who was present," he said.

The first time I saw Koehl was during the July 4 weekend in 1976, in a hotel in Arlington where the Nazis were holding a convention, or "congress," as they called it. Party officials said there was a "good chance" the commander would have time for an interview, but nothing definite was set up.

Koehl told the audience that part of the new NSWPP propaganda strategy would be to "disabuse" the American public of the negative image of Nazis created by what he called the Jewish-controlled film industry in Hollywood.

"We have to get rid of this Hollywood image; we have to create a desire on their part to believe what we believe," he said.

(Standing ovation and cheers.)

On July 5, Koehl granted the interview, to take place at his Arlington office. After being frisked, I was led upstairs.

At 42, he looked lean and pale. He said he became interested in National Socialism when, in his early teens, he began to question the portrayal of Adolf Hitler as "a monster and the epitomy of evil." Comparing Hitler with Joseph Stalin, he said he found Stalin's crimes "far exceeded the alleged crimes of Hitler."

Alleged crimes of Hitler?

Koehl said he found most history books biased against Germany. "It was a case of the victors with an ax to grind trying to justify their actions against National Socialist Germany, when they, in fact, were the culprits," he said.

While attending high school in Milwaukee, and after he graduated, he searched in vain for a group with political attitudes similar to his. In 1959, Rockwell provided what he had been seeking.

Koehl said he is waiting until the country is on the "verge of total catastrophe" and masses of Americans realize that an extreme group is needed to handle the extreme situation.

When his group comes to power, Koehl said, the Jews will have to leave. Ideally, they would be shipped to an island and surrounded by an international navy, he said. "I don't want these Jews sneaking out again and going among other peoples and being parasites."

Blacks, too, would have to leave, he said. He suggested they might be sent back to Africa as pioneers.

"We wouldn't be ready to take over tomorrow, but I would like to see this whole thing wound up before the end of the century," he said.

Holocaust Hoax?

I agreed with Charles Roberts' letter of March 12 and would like to reply to Charles Gimon's rebuttal published on March 19. Of course, statements such as "no klansman will ever be hated or maligned" and "redneck kids . . . throwing their spitwads" defy logical response. Neither can most of his historical anecdotes be refuted, since he did not cite his sources for these. (I do seem to remember, from an old issue of the "National Lampoon," the reference to Britishers painting themselves blue.)

But having read a great deal on the Holocaust theory, I ask Mr. Gimon to consider Dr. Rudy Bretz' opinion in "Taxonomy of Communication Media" — a standard college text — that the "photographic evidence" was faked; Richard Harwood's proof in "Did Six Million Really Die?" that "documents" were obtained by torturing defendants at the Nuremberg trials; and Dr. Arthur Butz' assertion in "The Hoax of the Twentieth Century" that the "mass graves" contained victims of typhus, not genocide. If he cannot find these last two books at the store or library, they can be ordered from NS Publications, P.O. Box 50360, Cicero, Ill. 60650.

After all, one of the central tenets of a humanist is that he espouses his beliefs only after careful examination of all the alternatives. This is what events like the klan exhibit are all about - providing alternatives for whites who can't identity with the Nikki Giovanni and Ralph Ellison (yes, I've read them) "culture" being promoted by our schools, media, and governments.

Finally, I am unable to find the phrase in Mr. Roberts' letter where he states any objection to being called a racist. I am surprised, on the other hand, that Mr. Gimon omitted the humanist line that "minorities cannot be racist; only those in power can be racist." If this is true, then no white person today can be a racist.
